

LEG IT FOR LEARNING

Can you help us travel 4800km to raise money to support literacy in Sierra Leone?

We are collectively running /walking /cycling the equivalent distance from Waterloo UK to Waterloo, Sierra Leone – where the CODEP Learning Resource Centre is located. From this building, we support over 50 local schools, providing library and literacy resources as well as providing a community hub for adult literacy classes, sports events and reading competitions. We want to raise £10,760 – the cost of running the library in Sierra Leone for 6 months. Can you help us?

How it works

Visit the website to sign up and pledge how far of our 4800 km target you want to challenge yourself to contribute to.

Tell everyone you know that about it and send round the sponsorship link. You'll be emailed an info pack with all the details.

The virtual starting gun will go off on the 1st May and then you have three weeks to complete your pledged distance!
